GOALS

I thrive in a role where I get to take more responsibility and therefore see the future of me climbing up within the company and getting to work as, for example, leading front end.

MAIN COMPETENCE

Problem solving is what I'm passionate about and I naturally find myself in a position where colleagues come to me for answers.

EXPERIENCE

From my many years of working in service professions, I learned to be quick and creative when solving the many different problems that arouse. I have already been a part of launching new products and improving old ones as a developer at IC Control Media & Sport and with my experience so far, I've become much more adept at critically evaluating code, both my own and others, to ensure we achieve the most optimal and efficient solutions possible."
